Other People’s Children Symposium
Saturday, April 27th 2019
9am - 1pm
Parma Payne Goodall Alumni Center
San Diego State University

- Half day symposium
- Multimodal, professional development opportunity
- Coffee, tea and CRT
- Great books raffle!

Our guest lecturers will discuss the topics of critical race parenting and language justice while providing authentic, first-hand experiences about what it means to educate other people’s children in 2019.

With a film screening of the linguistic documentary, ‘Talking Black in America’ produced by The Language and Life Project, which chronicles the impact of African American English on the current landscape of American life, language and culture.

Cheryl Matias Ph.D. - Featuring - Jamila Lyiscott Ph.D.

Dr. Matias is an Associate Professor in the School of Education & Human Development at the University of Colorado Denver. Specifically, she uses a feminist of color approach to deconstruct the emotionality of whiteness in urban teacher education and how it impacts urban education. A former K-12 teacher, she earned her BA in cultural communication from UCSD and her teaching credential here at SDSU.

Jamila Lyiscott is a social justice education scholar, nationally renowned speaker, spoken word artist, and educational consultant. She is an Assistant Professor of Social Justice Education at the University of Massachusetts Amherst. Her work focuses on racial justice, community engagement, and youth activism in education through the lens of what she has termed, “Vision-Driven Justice.”