CSP 596
THE BLACK EXPERIENCE: COUNSELING & CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL MOVEMENTS

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Describe systems of institutionalized oppression that have sparked contemporary global social movements.

Explore models of racial identity development.

Observe structural inequalities and their impact on the Black community.

Apply African centered evidence based practical tools that inform future helping professionals when working with Black populations.

KEY FEATURE
CSP 596 can count toward ANY of the undergraduate requirements for the Counseling & Social Change Minor

 Students will need to seek prior approval for this class to count toward a desired requirement

CONTACT
cscminor@sdsu.edu

for any questions regarding registration or the class

REGISTER NOW!