

TEACH, LEARN, & GROW AT STEIN EDUCATION CENTER

Stein Education Center (SEC), a program of the Vista Hill Foundation, is a non-public school setting for students with intellectual/developmental disabilities and severe emotional disorders. SEC was originally opened in 1973 as one of the first private school settings for children with Autism. SEC serves children, teens, and young adults who exhibit extreme behavioral challenges. Our school provides services to students from San Diego county who are referred due to the need for more behavioral, academic, and/or social skill support. Our unique setting provides ongoing collaboration and support from 13 special education teachers, two Board Certified Behavior Analysts, related service providers, as well as classroom aides.

SEC offers Teacher Residency to eligible candidates at no cost to them.
